To Whom It May Concern

Olivia Nagan, Director of The Olive Grove presented a workshop with us on Teenage Pregnancy, as this is a big problem in our schools and communities. As a Women's Organisation, we felt the need to be equipped to be able to address this problem in our schools and communities.

Olivia worked through the No Apologies Programme with us, and we found it to be informative and a useful tool to be used in our communities. We as parents were never taught ourselves about abstinence and teenage pregnancies, and by doing this course we were taught how to address this problem first in our own homes, and then in our schools and communities.

I have worked with Olivia Nagan over the past 9years, and she has a passion for the youth and their development. I fully support The Olive Grove as an trustworthy NPO which is actively contributing to changing communities.

I would recommend The Olive Grove, headed up by Olivia Nagan for any Workshop or Programme they wish to present in the schools or in the community.
